

Webinar Updates on Specialty Gloves in the US and EU Markets

9 December 2021 • 2.00^{pm} - 4.30^{pm} • Via Microsoft Teams

Warm Greetings from the Malaysian Rubber Council (MRC)!

MRC is pleased to extend an invitation to participate in the Updates on Specialty Gloves in the US and EU Markets. This webinar will highlight and present the findings identified from the market research study by MRC. Participants will acquire information on export opportunities to increase exports of specialty gloves in these markets, the market sizes, consumption patterns, procurement practices and purchasing requirements in key sectors. The study will assess the competitiveness among major glove suppliers of domestic and overseas producers and provide the market entry strategies for Malaysian exporters of specialty gloves. Do not miss the opportunity as the webinar is FREE for members of the rubber and rubber products industry registered with MRC.

About the Webinar

The outbreak of the coronavirus pandemic has fuelled the demand of medical gloves hence the export market for medical gloves will possibly reach a new high in 2021. Nonetheless, growth will stabilize as the pandemic situation subsides. This market study embarks on another speciality glove segment, focusing on gloves for medical purposes and procedures such as latex gloves for radiation, chemotherapy, gynaecological and dental. The US and EU markets, primarily in 5 countries Germany, France, UK, Italy and Spain dominates the global medical disposable gloves market with a combined share of 70.6% of the market demand, estimated at USD 29.6 billion in 2020. The US market alone accounts for 46.5% of the total market. The future projections remain strong for both markets with an estimated CAGR of 9.8% for US and 9.2% for the EU markets respectively between 2020 and 2027.
