MRC is pleased to extend an invitation to participate in the Market Updates and Opportunities for Latex Thread and Foley Catheters in China and Thailand. This webinar will highlight and present the findings identified from the market research study by MRC. Participants will acquire information on the factors contributing towards the growth in production and export, competitiveness, and potential advancement of the latex thread and rubber Foley catheters industries in China and Thailand.

The global latex thread market is valued at USD 702 million in 2021; China accounts for USD 275.5 million with a production growth CAGR of 4% from the year 2021 to 2031 while Thailand accounts for USD 6.6 million with a production growth CAGR of 3% from the year 2021 to 2031. Meanwhile, the global consumption of Foley catheters is estimated to reach USD 884 million, China accounting for USD 35.3 million with production volume increase at CAGR of 13%, and Thailand for USD 2.5 million. On the other hand, Thailand has no production capacity for latex Foley catheters, thus local demand is met by imports from China and other countries.

This market updates will assist the industry members to examine their competitiveness and to gain relevant market information on latex thread and Foley catheters against other players from China and Thailand.
